Bob Miller, as V.P. of Technology, is responsible for all information technology-related projects and tasks for ISTS, including infrastructure management, software development, internal and external networking and data security

Bob was the October 2004 AITP dinner speaker discussing Open Source Technologies. He is an interesting speaker and is well qualified to discuss Challenges in On-Line Environments. Bob will also discuss the "challenges" in moving from one company to another which have differing IT software and technical infrastructures. Bob's present employer is ISTS, which specializes in providing scholarship, grant and tuition program management services. They tailor their services and online application to meet their clients' specific needs and develop customized plans to achieve their programs objectives.

ISTS's clients include corporations, foundations, associations and other philanthropic and gift-giving organizations. ISTS implements full-service program management solutions for many Fortune 1000 companies, national associations and multinational non-profit organizations. They also administer programs for scholarship-granting entities like community foundations, charitable campaigns and large membership-based organizations. They manage programs ranging in size from a few targeted candidates to more than 100,000 applicants.

ISTS encourages all of its clients to explore the paper-eliminating options and consider an ISTS green-certified program. More than 97% of the programs they manage are completely paperless including supplement uploads and online forms.

ISTS's corporate headquarters and internal call center are located here in Nashville, Tennessee.

Bob Miller graduated from Northern Illinois University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Science. He enjoys playing golf, spending time with his wife and son and watching classic movies.
