A 1940's Radio Christmas Carol Larry Keeton Theatre

Our December program is traditionally non-technical, but this year we are really doing it differently. We will not be at the Holiday Inn – Vanderbilt but are going to the Larry Keeton Theatre for dinner and a show.

The show is titled A 1940's Radio Christmas Carol and is set on Christmas Eve, 1943, WOV Radio in Newark, New Jersey. The WOV radio station performs a modern take on the classic Dickens tale amidst the comedic antics of the performers. This is a heart-warming story filled with your favorite holiday songs.

The Larry Keeton Theatre has been in operation a number of years and offers a variety of musicals and theatrical plays throughout the year. The Theater is located at 108 Donelson Pike in Nashville, 37214. It is near the intersection of Donelson Pike and Lebanon Pike. Their website, www.theLarryKeetonTheatre.org, has more information. Their phone number is 615-883-8375.

The Theatre is part of the Fifty Forward building. Parking is around to the right (north) side of the building, and there is a side door with direct access to the Theatre.

There is limited seating in the Theatre. It is my understanding that performances are often sold out, especially the Christmas programs. You should make your reservation as soon as possible with Mary Simpson. We will try to arrange to accommodate as many people as possible.

AITP members have not been charged a dinner fee in 2015. As we have done in the past, member spouses and significant others are included in the free December dinner. Non AITP members who wish to attend will pay the regular guest fee of $30.00.

This should be a fun program to start the Holiday Season. I have heard that the food is good, and that they put on a great performance. Make your December 10th reservation now. Walk-ins will not be accepted.

We will meet attendees at the door. Reservations will be under the name of AITP and Paul Saunders. The Theatre doors open at 5:45 p.m. Dinner is served between 6:00 – 7:00 p.m., and the show starts at 7:00 p.m. They will provide us with a group seating arrangement.
