Handling Rapid IT Growth

Justin Miller, Chief Information Officer - Comprehensive Pain Specialists (CPS)

Approximately seven months ago Justin Miller was hired as the Chief Information Officer for Comprehensive Pain Specialists (CPS). CPS is a relatively small physicians group specializing in the management of chronic pain. CPS is continuing to grow at an incredible rate. In the January to December 2014 period, they doubled in size. They now have over 50 locations across the country. CPS is headquartered in Franklin, TN.

Justin Miller will tell us about the challenges of trying to meet the immediate technological needs of a fast growing and highly flexible organization while trying to develop a strategy and design that is sustainable. Justin's current projects are:

- Continual evaluation of the insourced/outsourced IT applications
- Financial planning
- Endpoint encryption
- Cyber Liability evaluation
- Enterprise voice migration
- EHR Management
- Clinical interfaces (HL7)
- Security risk analysis
- Evaluation of the reporting engine
- Application-centric monitoring of critical systems

Justin has over ten years experience in IT primarily as a Systems Engineer. He has specialized in healthcare with companies such as HCA and Cigna HealthSpring. Justin was educated at the Tennessee Technical University with an Engineering major. He holds a number of certifications.

Justin and his family live in Murfreesboro. He plays golf when not playing with his four-year-old daughter.

This should be an interesting discussion by a first time CIO on handling projects in a young and fast moving company.

Remember that the January AITP meeting will be held at the Marriott Courtyard Hotel in Brentwood since the Holiday Inn – Vanderbilt is undergoing renovation.
