Robots on the Move

JJ Rosen - Founder, Atiba Holdings, LLC

Get ready for the rise of the machines. Only this time, it's not science-fiction. The respected research firm Gartner predicts that over the next five years the make-up of the world's workforce will dramatically change. With the proliferation of smart devices, high-speed connectivity, and the cloud, Gartner anticipates a new version of the digital age where smart machines (aka "robots") will take on traditionally human jobs.

So, how will this affect us humans?

Our October speaker will discuss the impact of smart machines on society and on the tech world.

Our speaker is JJ Rosen who is the Founder of Atiba Holdings, LLC, and continues to serve as the Chairman of the company today. JJ founded Atiba in 1992 as a computer consulting firm with the goal of providing clients with a single source for all of their computer system needs. Atiba has since grown to be one of the leading software development, web design, network support, and IT consulting firms in Nashville working for over 2000 clients throughout the world.

JJ is a highly skilled programmer, and as such, has recruited the best software developers, mobile app developers, web developers, network architects and website designers in the Southeast to serve on the Atiba and Cabeledge teams.

JJ Rosen is from Nashville, TN. He attended University School of Nashville and graduated Summa Cum Laude from Vanderbilt University with a degree in Human and Organizational Development. He is Microsoft certified. In his spare time, JJ likes to play drums and play racquetball.
