"Inspirational Project Management – Connecting the Dots"
Doug Cothorn - Project Manager, Citizens Bank

This month on November 14th AITP Nashville chapter monthly meeting attendees are going to be treated to an excellent presentation.

As Project Managers, we are most often faced with managing dotted line project resources. Inspiring these resources towards project success requires just the right combination of servant leadership, organization and humor!

Doug Cothorn currently works at Citizens Bank in Franklin TN. He brings more than 25 years of global program and project management experience in food industry supply chain, publishing, logistics and distribution, automotive supply chain and logistics, higher education, and financial services. Doug Cothorn has spoken at numerous industry and software events, served as adjunct professor in Information Systems at Middle Tennessee State University, and provided soft skills training globally at Cummins.
